The Meaning of Life

(by Alexander Papaderous, who witnessed many atrocities during World War Two)

*I am a fragment of a mirror whose whole design and shape I do not know.
Nevertheless, with what I have
I can reflect light into the dark places of this world, into the black places in the hearts of men and women,
and change some things in some people.
Perhaps others may see and do likewise.
This is what I'm about.
This is the meaning of my life.*
