Missing sills: Killybegs History & Heritage

Committee has been busy carrying out some essential work on the old National School at Fintra. The door has been rehung and windows replaced as well as securing the roof, making the building weatherproof before the winter sets in. Unfortunately, the original stone window sills are missing. Perhaps someone removed them for safe keeping? If anyone knows of their whereabouts, please contact 086-262 7722. Alternatively, perhaps someone knows where suitable replacement sills of the period might be found.
